Large Group Leaves For Army Service

A large number of Andover men were included in the contingent recently inducted into the army which left yesterday morning for Fort Devens to begin active service. The group got a proper send-off from more than 500 relatives and friends who gathered around the town hall, and later marched en masse to the railroad station behind the inducted group.

The parade was led by the American Legion's color guard and its Junior bugle and drum corps, continuing a policy inaugurated by the Andover Service club last month. In view of the large public response to the idea of giving some sort of demonstration when a large group leaves for service, the practice of holding an organized send-off will probably be continued.

The inducted group assembled at the town house about 10:00 yesterday morning, a large throng having already gathered to watch the proceedings. Several town officials were present among the spectators. At about 10:15, the group fell in behind the band, and there was a spontaneous burst of applause as the march started.

The parade was led by a squad of local police officers headed by Sergt. W. R. Hickey. So large was the gathering at the station that the police were forced to take their posts to keep the throng from pressing out onto the tracks.

School Supt. Edward I. Erickson, Mervin Stevens of Punchard high school and the Punchard commercial teachers are in charge of securing the names and addresses of the servicemen to receive the gifts. Lists have been furnished by the American Legion, V. F. W., and draft board, and every effort is being made to see that the roster is complete. Parents or friends of servicemen who feel that

Local Rationing Board Enlarged

Preparations Completed For Registration Of All Fuel Oil Users At Schools October 28, 29, 30

Scrap Drive Has Raised 262 Tons

Over 70,000 Pounds Collected Last Week

As predicted last week by the local salvage committee, Andover's official total, as the nation-wide scrap harvest campaign reached its climax Sunday, was 262.6 tons. This is approximately 180 pounds of scrap per family against a quota of 90 pounds previously assigned.

The first clean-up collection took place Saturday, after the intensive drive on the previous Sunday, and six of the town trucks hauled over 57,000 pounds of scrap metal to the Gutterson and Gould yards. Twenty boys from the Junior high school worked from 7 to 1 o'clock on the loading.

Abbot Academy had made a delivery to the yard previously, amounting to 13,720 pounds, bringing Andover's total for last week up to 35 tons.

There is still considerable tonnage scattered about town, and the committee is being modest when it ventures to estimate that over 300 tons of scrap metal will eventually have gone to the steel mills from Andover. The next collection will be made Saturday, and, while the emphasis will be on cleaning up the remaining large scrap heaps, trucks will eventually get around to individuals who cannot transport their scrap to the bins themselves. Townspeople are asked to phone the civilian defense office, 1361, enumerating all the heavy poundage to be collected.

The harvest has revealed the arresting fact that the children of St. Augustine's school averaged over 180 pounds per pupil in their collection, total poundage to date

Nine new members were added to the local rationing board this week, since the board is shortly to take over new and complicated duties connected with price administration. Also, the new fuel oil registration will require individual attention by board members to each application, and a considerable amount of work will thus be entailed.

The new members are Miss Katherine Barrett, John Cussen, J. Augustus Remington, William McIntyre, Gordon Colquhoun, Mrs. Pauline Field, F. Howard Porter, Mrs. Ruth Dake and Roger Lewis. They will be assigned to four new sub-committees.

The new dates for consumers of fuel oil have been set for October 28, 29 and 30, the applicant returning his form then from 3 to 8 p. m. at the Punchard and Shawsheen schools. It is requested that those whose surnames begin with A to E, inclusive, come on October 28, F through R, the 29th, S through Z, the 30th.

Prior to those dates, every fuel dealer in this vicinity will have received application forms, which he will deliver to his own customers together with a signed memorandum showing the total gallons purchased during the 12 months ended May 31.

Immediately on receipt, the applicant should fill out the blank, answering all questions, especially those on the area in square feet of the rooms he is permitted to heat. This data must be determined accurately, and even small spaces like closets and halls should be included.

The applicant will return the completed form to the schools as above noted, where it will be examined and filed by the personnel in charge. Every form will be passed on by the rationing board, and

Explains Difficulties In Wartime Phone Service

E. L. Bramley, manager of the telephone exchanges in this area, spoke of the difficulties under which telephone companies operate during practice air raids at a meeting of the committee on public safety last Thursday night.

He pointed out that the public is asked not to use the telephone during an air raid, practice or real, because it is needed by the defense system. The outline of a warning service's functions at such a time is:

On receipt of Green One, the report center notifies all members of A.R.P. services that a real or practice raid is on. Persons using the telephone at that time may prevent a warden or other A.R.P. worker from being notified; it might interfere with the protection even of the person telephoning.

The Green Two warning, that hostile or unidentified planes are coming closer, must also be telephoned to the wardens and the various services. On Green Three, the sirens sound, notifying the public of the raid for the first time. It is no time to telephone; there is no immediate danger, and the wardens may need the telephone lines. Instead, Mr. Bramley reported, many people call up their friends, and the exchange is swamped with calls.

No system of priority on calls can be instituted to meet this problem, he said, since a warden might need to use any telephone during an emergency. In practice sessions, it doesn't do any real harm, except making it harder for the telephone girls to do their work properly.

But in a real raid, real trouble might be caused—a fire might get well started, injured people might not get the immediate attention they need, and the protection services would be crippled.

Mr. Bramley also mentioned that the telephone company gets no advance notice of the raid, and extra operators cannot be called in. Andover, he said, has not been co-operating as well as it might, and there have been too many calls for the operators to handle. Since the town has cooperated so well in all other aspects of the war effort, he thought it reasonable for it to extend the same help to the telephone company.

Defense Committee Notes

The local committee on public safety wishes to remind the public that it is contrary to paragraphs 6 and 7 of Executive Order No. 3, issued by the Governor on January 8, for anyone to have an outdoor fire between sunset and sunrise. This applies to all bonfires and the burning of leaves.

The medical service is in need of 100 blankets. Those having camp blankets are requested to contribute them to the local ambulance service. They must be clean, in good condition, and marked with the owner's name.

Local civilian defense workers who have emergency stickers for their cars are warned that the stickers are not legal unless properly lighted. The committee on public safety is now attempting to secure the proper lights for installation on authorized vehicles at a price of 65 cents each to the car owner. Persons wishing to buy the lights should leave their name and address at the civilian defense office in the town hall, telephone 1361.

Recently the League was called upon by the town clerk's office to assist in a large and difficult task. Thomson was elected director for one year to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry Bodwell. The new directors for three years are Bernard L. McDonald, Edmond E. Hammond, Wallace E. Brimer, Joseph T. Gagne, George Brown, James L. Toohey and Harold G. Bowen.

The various budget committees are: selectmen—Louis W. Finger, James L. Toohey, Philip W. Thomson; school committee—Walter Tomlinson, Edmond E. Hammond; board of public works—Henry Hopper, Joseph McCarthy, Bernard McDonald; library—Herbert Farnsworth; cemetery—J. Augustus Remington; board of health—Joseph T. Gagne; playgrounds—Harold G. Bowen.

their names might, in spite of this, be omitted, are urged to get in touch with the above-named.

Materials have been bought for 800 packages. There are at least 639 local men now in service; scores left yesterday morning in the latest draft contingent, and many others will be entering service through the draft and other channels before Christmas.

Net proceeds from the affairs conducted during the Columbus Day week-end are not yet exactly computed, but will reach approximately $2,000. A check for $1,300 has been received from the Gutterson and Gould firm for the scrap conducted under the fund committee's auspices; the total net receipts of the committee so far are around $4000.

The merchandise has all been ordered, at wholesale prices, through Andover merchants, and is expected to arrive early in the week. A meeting of the full committee will be called at that time to make final arrangements. Some sort of "assembly line" procedure will be adopted for the large assignment of sorting, packaging, wrapping, addressing and mailing the gift packages.

A Christmas card bearing a suitable inscription will be enclosed in each package, and also a card for the serviceman to fill out, notifying the committee of its safe arrival. All packages will be insured and plainly marked with a return address and guarantee of return postage.

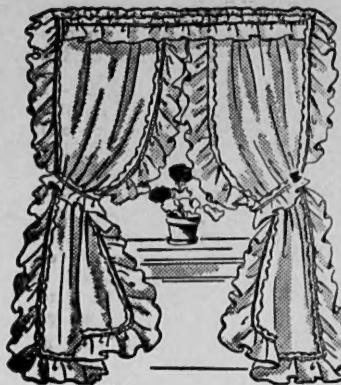

A special meeting of the whole committee will be held Monday night, at which all details will be clarified.

Meanwhile, the Servicemen's Fund Committee is planning other activities during the fall and winter. Already, assurances have been received that proceeds from the firemen's and policemen's balls will be donated to the fund, and minstrel shows and other entertainments will be staged from time to time.

MAIL SOLDIERS' XMAS GIFTS
BEFORE NOVEMBER 1.

READ THE RULES—The following rules, issued by the Postoffice Department in cooperation with the Army Postal Service of the War Department, apply to the mailing of Christmas parcels for members of our Armed Forces serving outside the continental limits of the United States.

TIME OF MAILING—Christmas parcels and greeting cards should be mailed during the period beginning October 1 and ending November 1, 1942, the earlier the better. Each package should be endorsed "Christmas Parcel." Special effort will be made for delivery in time for Christmas.

SIZE AND WEIGHT—Christmas parcels shall not exceed 11 pounds in weight, or 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined. However, the public has been urged to cooperate by voluntarily restricting parcels to the size of an ordinary shoe box and the weight to six pounds.

USE CARE IN PREPARATION—Remembering the great distance this mail will be transported and the necessary storage and frequent handling, it is absolutely necessary that articles be packed in substantial boxes or containers and be covered with wrappers of sufficient strength to resist pressure of other mail. Each parcel is subject to censorship and delay may be minimized by securing covering to permit ready inspection of contents.

PROHIBITED MATTER—Intoxicants, inflammable materials, poisons or compositions likely to damage mails are unmailable. No perishable matter should be included in parcels.

HOW TO ADDRESS PARCELS—Addresses must be legible. Parcels addressed to overseas Army personnel should show in addition to the full name and address of the sender, the name rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, A.P.O. number of the addressee and the postoffice through which parcels are to be routed. Units located within the continental United States may be addressed direct, using name, rank, organization and location.

POSTAGE MUST BE FULLY PREPAID—The rate on parcels of fourth-class matter (exceeding eight ounces) being the zone rate applicable from the postoffice where mailed to the postoffice in the care of which parcels are addressed.

GREETING MESSAGES PERMISSIBLE—Inscriptions such as "Merry Christmas", "Don't open until Christmas" and the like may be placed on the covering of the parcel if it does not interfere with the address. Cards may be enclosed and books may bear a simple dedicatory inscription.

INSURANCE AND REGISTRY—Gifts of value should be insured. Articles of small size and considerable value should be sealed and sent as first-class registered mail.

MONEY ORDERS—The Army Postal Service recommends use of postal money orders to transmit gifts of money to members of Armed Forces outside the United States. These are cashed at A.P.O. in local foreign currency at rate of exchange on date of presentation.

Davis Lectures Tomorrow
On Fire And Its Control

Dr. Arthur R. Davis of M.I.T. will give a lecture, "Fire and the Control of Fire," Friday evening at George Washington hall. Because of the nature of the program, it will be of particular interest to civilian defense workers, but the general public is invited.

There will be demonstrations, performed right on the stage, of dust explosions, the different types of fires and the methods used to extinguish them, thermite, magnesium bombs and how they behave with extinguishing agents, and materials used in sabotage.

Dr. Davis will explain the nature of fire, and the chemical reactions in combustion. He will speak on extinguishing fires both by excluding the oxygen which makes it burn, as by foamite, and by cooling the combustible liquid below its kindling temperature. He will further divide his topic into fires in materials that require oxygen from the air, as wood and oil, and those that supply their own oxygen, as thermit and magnesium.

Don Cossacks To Sing At Phillips

The only appearance in northern New England by the famous Don Cossack Russian male chorus and dancers takes place at Phillips academy Tuesday evening, November 3. This performance, although arranged primarily for students of the academy, is open to the general public, but applications for tickets must be made in advance.

The Cossacks recently completed a movie in Russian costume and setting for a Hollywood motion picture studio.

WEDDINGS

Smith—Greenwell

A large group of friends and parishioners attended the wedding, last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, of Miss Esther Marian Greenwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Greenwell of Dallas, Oregon, and Rev. Elton Edward Smith, pastor of the Andover Baptist church. The double-ring wedding service was performed in the Andover Newton chapel, Newton Center, by Rev. Dr. Everett C. Herrick, president of Andover Newton Theological school.

The bride, given in marriage by Rev. Alexander Henderson of Medford, wore white marquisette and a white picture hat. Pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, were her only ornament. She carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern.

Her attendant, Mrs. Ellis Eaton of Newton Center, wore a marquisette dress of aqua and a white hat trimmed with aqua. She carried bronze chrysanthemums.

Preceding and following the service, Rev. Kenneth Eaton of Boxford presided at the chapel organ. Raymond Gray of Kansas sang "Ich leibe dich" and "This hallowed hour." E. Linwood Brandis of Richmond, Virginia acted as best man, and the ushers were Rev. Judson Dillon Howard of Centre Sandwich, N. H., and Rev. Harry Howard Kreuner of Boston.

A luncheon was given the wedding party at noon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Rand of Newton Centre. A wedding reception for guests was held following the ceremony in the school club room. In the receiving line, in addition to the above, were Mrs. Harris Wortman Fifield of Pelham, N. Y., aunt of the groom and Harry P. Smith of New York, the groom's uncle.

Miss Harriet May Smith, sister of the groom, kept the guest book. Friends assisting at the reception were the Misses Teresa Henderson, Elizabeth Jukes, Kathleen Curry and Ruth Tobey, all of Medford, Miss Mildred Stimson of Needham, and Mrs. N. Robinson, Mrs. E. Co-fran and Mrs. B. Westgate.

For travel, the bride wore a brown velvet suit, a beige cape and brown accessories. After a short wedding trip in Maine, the couple will make their home in Andover.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Linfield college, McMinnville, Oregon, taught in the Dallas high school and has had two years of graduate study at Andover Newton Theological school. She is a native of Portland, Oregon, attended school in Newton Center, was director of religious education at the First Baptist church, Medford, and was also a worker at the Boston Dispensary.

Rev. Mr. Smith attended schools in New Rochelle and New York, N. Y., and was graduated from New York university and Andover Newton Theological school. He has been pastor of the Baptist church since October, 1940.

Lelacheur—Brown

Miss Lillian Margaret Brown of 29 Main street became the bride of Francis Allen LeLacheur, 410 North Main street, at a ceremony performed by Rev. Herman C. Johnson on October 9 at 61 Red Spring road.

LIBRARY NOTES

Recent additions to the Memorial Hall library include the following books:

Last train from Berlin—Howard Smith. An uncensored straight-forward record of Germany from the invasion of Poland to the present, telling facts previously withheld: the true feeling of the German people, their hardships and problems, their swerving faiths, and the approaching weakening of morale. The author concludes his book with suggestions for the policies of the allied countries if they hope to gain the confidence of the oppressed anti-Nazi masses.

Living upstairs—Francis Meehan. As the sub-title, "Reading for profit and pleasure" indicates, this book is intended as an introduction to the enjoyment of books.

Herbs, their culture and use—Clarkson. This form of gardening which is growing in popularity offers the excitement of novelty and the thrill of practicality. Recipes are included for the use of herbs harvested.

I've come a long way—Helena Kuo. Delightful autobiography of a Chinese girl who came from Canton to America. Her writing reveals the universality of the problems of youth, and her observances of both her native and adopted countries are shrewd and candid.

The raft—Robert Trumbell. Afloat on a rubber boat in the Pacific for thirty-four days, with no food, water or equipment, three men survived to tell their story of unbelievable courage and ingenuity. A remarkable evidence of super-human endurance.

Books relating to the present war situation: Home front digest—Logan; Strategy for victory—Baldwin; Geopolitics—Stranz-Hupe; Rationed rubber—Haynes; Japan rides the tiger—Price; American unity and Asia—Buck; Miracle on the Congo—Burman; What the citizen should know about submarine warfare—Woodbury.

The army wife (Shea) and The navy wife (Pye). Valuable information for the wives of men in these branches of the service, with advice about the legal and social formalities involved in their new status.

Pageant of India—Major Yeats-Brown. After living for many years in India the author of "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" has set down the story of India. From the wealth of background material at his disposal, he has outlined a possible solution to the problem of Indian independence.

For entertainment and diversion: Five women in three novels—Baldwin; Journey into fear—Ambler; Long ride—Dawson; On ice—Dean; The fighting Terhunes—Dern; Blood on her shoe—Field; Exit screaming—Hale; The fallen sparrow—Hughes; Apple in the attic—Jordan; Sam Small flies again—Knight; Rainbow at dusk—Loring; The Barley fields—Nathan; Marling Hall—Thirkell; A man about the house—Young.

I escaped from Hong Kong—Jan Henrik Marsman. While on business in Hong Kong a Dutch-born U.S. citizen was caught in the siege of that city. After terrible experiences he escaped to write this account of those days. On the advice of Mr. Roosevelt to "hold nothing back" he presents this grim but truthful record.

Issue In Disguise

"Healthier mothers and hence healthier babies"—that's a truly noble purpose, isn't it?

That is what the proponents of the so-called birth control bill say is the purpose of their initiative petition on which the voters of this Commonwealth will have to act on the coming election day.

How are we to have "healthier mothers and healthier babies?" The title of the bill is "An act to allow physicians to provide medical contraceptive care to married persons for the protection of life or health." Some will think that that is a worthy purpose; others will think that the prevention of birth after conception is morally wrong. But regardless of how you stand on the broad question of birth control, the most glaring fact about this proposal is that under these "noble statements" there lies something else, vicious from the viewpoint of everyone.

To have "healthier mothers and healthier babies" the bill would give physicians the right to give information, treatment and prescription to married persons. To those who see no moral wrong in birth control, this sounds perfectly all right. But if they'll look farther, they'll see that it opens the whole range of contraceptive practice up to everybody, single or married. Why is it necessary for instance to allow the publication and sale of this information, with no limitation being placed on the sources of the publications or on the persons who may buy them? That was slipped into this bill. It opens the door to promiscuous sex relations between boys and girls, and no one wants that. It's bad enough today without legalizing it.

The majority of the General Court committee on public health investigated the matter very carefully, and found that there was absolutely no necessity from a public health standpoint, that actually the diseases which the proponents have mentioned are not sufficiently prevalent to make such a broad bill necessary. In 1939 this state had not one single case of death from childbirth because of these diseases. In the last thirteen years 38,312 babies have arrived at the Boston City Hospital; not one mother died because of any of these diseases.

It is apparent that the proponents of the bill are in effect trying to put something over on the public. Behind the screen of protecting motherhood, they are evidently trying to promote something which can mean only the establishment of a dangerous promiscuity, dangerous to public morals, dangerous to the future of our homes and so to the future of our country.

Scrap To Steel

The collection of scrap metal, principally steel, gave great satisfaction to the persons who cooperated in any way in its collection. But how did the steel industry feel about it?

Well, according to the Iron Age, weekly magazine for steelmen, the production of steel gained a half-point to reach 100 percent of capacity, the highest mark since the week of April 30. Since production capacity was much smaller then, ingot output was at an all-time high of 1,700,000 tons for the week.

It is worth pointing out, too, that the steel industry cannot buy scrap metal directly from the city or town collecting it, a fact which has raised quite a howl in some communities. The scrap must be extensively processed before the steel mills can use it.

However and whenever the scrap reaches the open hearth, however, Andover's thousands of donors may well look with pride at the nation's rising steel production figures.

This Sober Town

May we pause a minute to shake hands with the Boston and Maine railroad, which uses these humble pages now and again to inform the public on the way to run a railroad? The B and M, for the second straight year, has won a national advertising honor, a country-wide advertising association picking it as tops among over 5,000 national advertisers. Last year's winner, by the way, was Elsie the cow.

Said the ad association's statement, "the road talks plain New England talk which can be understood by all...the humor and ever-changing tone keeps the road's patrons in humorous suspense awaiting a new outburst...the Boston and Maine was the first railroad in the country to adopt the candid and frank approach in its advertising...it has set a new style..."

We're always glad to receive a B and M ad here. The only problem is to write news copy that will attract its own decent share of attention.

We hate to brag, or at least we always say that we hate to brag when we brag. But on August 20, in this column, we mentioned that now that Winston Churchill had taken the "grand tour" around the battle areas, it was time for Mrs. Roosevelt to start gadding about again. Evidently she decided to wait for Wendell to take his little jaunt, and then for the President to go on his trip.

Now she's off to a good start, and we will watch her progress with bated breath. What Europe needs, in these baffling days, is an All Euro-Asian Congress of Young People, or an Institute for the Betterment of Cultural and Political Relations, or something. Mrs. Roosevelt is just the girl to get them going.

Something of a record will be established Saturday night, we think, when three suppers will be held concurrently in the West and Baptist churches, and at the Square and Compass club. Anyone not planning to eat at home Saturday has an enviable choice.

Lieut. (j. g.) Stanley Norton, now stationed at Newport, R. I., spent the weekend with his parents on Elm street.

Mrs. G. S. B. Trott of Central street and Mrs. Walter Partridge of Walnut avenue have returned to their homes after enjoying a week's visit in New York City.

Abbot Academy Notes

Margaret Sittig, distinguished American violinist, will give a recital on Saturday night at 8:15. She will be accompanied by Kate Friskin of the Abbot faculty. Miss Sittig's decisive successes in America as well as in Europe have unquestionably placed her among the foremost concert violinists of the day. At the age of ten she was so proficient that the eminent music patroness, Princess Luise von Schoenburg-Waldenburg, presented her with a rare old violin. Determined to become a great artist after this tribute to her prowess, young Margaret diligently applied herself to the mastery of the violin and her playing soon attracted the attention of no less a personage than Leopold Auer, whose pupil she became. Shortly afterwards she was concertizing in Europe. Her fame spread rapidly among the music-lovers of the Old World. Returning to America, she was soon in demand for concert appearances. Miss Sittig has appeared as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra under the direction of Leopold Stokowski, as well as with other American orchestras. Now a violinist of the highest attainments and profoundest musicianship, this attractive young artist is ever gaining new laurels. Her program at Abbot Academy will be as follows: Sonata in G minor by Eccles (1670-1742), Grave, Courants, Adagio, Vivace; Sonata in A major by Cesar Franck, Allegretto ben moderato, Allegro, Recitativo-Fantasia, Allegretto poco mosso; Song of the Black Swan by Villa-Lobos; Jota by De Falla; Beau Soir by Debussy; Heifetz; From My Country by Smetana; Concerto in E minor, opus 64 by Mendelssohn, Allegro, molto appassionato, Andante, Allegretto non troppo, Allegro molto vivace.

The public is cordially invited to attend this concert.

James Gordon Gilkey, D. D., of the South Congregational church, Springfield, will speak at the vesper service Sunday at 7:30, when friends of the school are welcome.

BALLARDVALE

Whist Party Tonight

A whist party will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Mitchell of Tewksbury street. Michael Bell and George Brewster are co-chairmen, and have secured many prizes—including a pound of coffee!

Friendly Guild Meets

Friendly Guild members and friends had an interesting evening Friday when Miss May Milliken of Melrose gave an interesting talk on her experiences travelling through the British Isles. Refreshments were served during the social hour following.

Motion Picture Coming

"Meat and Romance," a sound motion picture on nutrition, will be shown at the Union Congregational church fair on November 13. The picture has real wartime significance, because it shows how to select economical cuts of meat, proper methods of cooking and curing to prevent waste, and the nutritive values of various cuts. The picture is produced by the National Livestock and Meat Board in collaboration with the U. S. Bureau of Home Economics.

Much misinformation about meat is corrected in the picture, which is filmed partly in color. The place of meat in the diets of infants and young children is also shown.

Rev. David I. Segerstrom will also project a few reels of color films depicting some of the church people on various occasions. The public is invited, and there will be no admission charge.

Tickets are now on sale for the Swedish Smorgasbord to be served from 5 to 7 o'clock by the Friendly Guild, with the assistance of the C. E. societies. Adult tickets are priced at 50 cents, children's, 30 cents.

Personals

Mrs. Donald Boyd and daughter of Fitchburg are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Nicoll of Clark road.

The Methodist church fair will be held December 11 in the community rooms.

A special musical program will be held Sunday morning at the Methodist church. The Misses Crawford will give piano and violin solos.

POLICE BLOTTER

Can you imagine a man, presumably with a lot of gas to burn, who is able, in days like these, to speed through town past two police officers, and then play hares-and-hounds over half of Shawshen? Bernard Stein of 80 Stratmore road, Brighton, did all of that, and it cost him $40 to do it. Stein was found guilty on three counts in Lawrence District court last Thursday, and fined $25 for refusing to stop for an officer and $15 for speeding. A charge of driving an unregistered car was filed.

Early last week, Stein went through the square at a merry clip, past Officer Joseph Davis, who called up Officer Arthur Jowett at Shawshen. The latter attempted to stop Stein also, but Stein, seeing the gesture, swerved into Balmoral street.

Officer Davis came down in the police cruiser, picked up Officer Jowett, and chased the car through York, Haverhill and sundry other streets. They didn't catch Stein, but got his number, and he was picked up later. Thursday, he was really caught.

Charles Hendry of Lady Albion street, Medford, was brought into Lawrence District court on the following day, charged with operating after the suspension of his license—six months afterwards, to be exact. He pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty and fined $50.

Two 14-year-olds, Kenneth Dunlop and Walter Sears, state wards who had been living with Mrs. Saddle Slayton of 15 Pine street, Saugus, were picked up in the Square early Friday morning. They hadn't eaten or slept for a day and a half, and were pretty well worn. They were held at the station until Friday afternoon, receiving two substantial meals from the department in the interim, and later turned over to Mrs. Slayton.

George Jacobson, out on River road, has the same troubles this year as last. Jacobson's land is posted against hunters, and, when he saw a man with a shotgun trespassing Tuesday afternoon, he went over to see about it. The fellow put up quite an argument, and eventually got so heated that he allegedly fired near Jacobson's feet.

Last year, the River road man had the same trouble with another man, and police are now checking to see if, perhaps, lightning strikes twice in the same place.

Punchard Notes

Ruth Gregory

Punchard has several boys who are officially accredited messenger-couriers in the town's civilian defense organization. If there is an emergency call at the report center, these boys will report at their assigned posts. The couriers are Robert Batcheller, Duncan Cairnie, Richard Cargill, David Cargill, Thomas Carter, David McCord, Robert Mears, Ainslee Schofield, and Robert Simon.

Punchard and the Junior high recently held the first joint program in a series of assemblies given under the auspices of the School Assembly service. Pitt Fessenden Parker, cartoonist, lecturer and clay modeler was the speaker.

He presented an entertaining lecture on the importance of understanding other peoples' point of view, if we are to have a successful democracy. This he illustrated by several cartoons and two scenic paintings rapidly sketched in pastel colors. That of Niagara Falls he gave to the Junior high and the one of Mt. Rainier to Punchard.

In the cartoons, Mr. Barker gave us his version of the modern stick figure and exhibited his skill in creating impromptu pictures from dots placed on his drawing board by various pupils. Another method which he used to illustrate the idea that fundamentally all peoples are alike was to model a head representative of one race, and then by slight changes of hair, line of nose, chin, or beard to recreate heads representative of other peoples.

The list of officers in the Punchard library club is now complete, and is as follows: president, Jean Gilfoy; vice president, Janice Driscoll; secretary, June Bell. The club is planning a program which it will present to the school at an assembly during Book Week. The chairman for this program is Betty Morgan; the members of her committee, Janice Driscoll and Margaret Mitchell.

Punchard had an assembly Tuesday at which G. Earle Sowle, Chief Specialist, U.S.N.R., from the Lawrence recruiting office of the U. S. Navy, was the speaker. He presented two films entitled "Men make the Navy and the Navy makes men" and "Eyes of the Navy." In the course of his remarks he stated that boys who graduated from high school have an advantage over those who have not.

Wood Is Available For Local People

Sidney P. White, chairman of the wood fuel division under civilian defense, has announced that wood is now available to Andover people both in four-foot lengths and other sizes.

The four-foot lengths are available to those who wish to buy them, but they must purchase for cash a quantity of three to five cords. The wood in other lengths may be had by negotiating with the owners of the wood lots, and in some cases, purchasers may cut it themselves from the stump.

Anyone wishing to secure wood in any of these ways is asked to get in touch with Mr. White.

WAR REGULATIONS AND HOW THEY AFFECT YOUR SERVICE GROCER

Delivery Service

For some time we have been unable to buy new tires or tubes or any recap tires. Up to a few days ago we were able to buy used tires. These were a very poor substitute and were a very expensive item. Now we are told we must cut our delivery mileage 50%. In order to do this we have arranged the following delivery service effective Monday, October 26, 1942:

Commencing next week — October 26, 1942—

There will be no delivery on MONDAYS

There will be no delivery on WEDNESDAYS

There will be no delivery on FRIDAYS

There will be a delivery covering the entire town on

Tuesdays Thursdays Saturdays

In order to comply with the regulations and give you a good and fair delivery service we request that you place your order the day before you want it delivered. This arrangement will not inconvenience anyone because very few people order from this store every day in the week. The majority of our customers order their food items only two or three times a week.

Shortage of Tea and Coffee

No longer can we sell Tea by the full pound. It must be sold in quarter pound lots. We have on hand an exceptionally fine Tea that will please anyone. The price will be 25 cents a quarter pound, and this price will remain the same as long as the tea we now have remains unsold.

We have another tea put up in quarter pound cartons. The ceiling price of this tea is 33c a quarter pound. Our price for this fine tea is 29c a quarter pound. That price will remain the same as long as our stock lasts.

About COFFEE. Ah! That's the bad boy in the food business. Since October 1st this store has passed out to the people of Andover almost 1100 pounds of coffee. That is more than twice the number of coffee customers this store ever had at any one time. Our Mr. Kelly who buys all the groceries for this store has been coming back to our store at night and allotting this coffee in the fairest and squarest way—one pound to everyone in his turn. We can no longer continue in this way as our quota is insufficient to take care of our regular customers, and those who just want coffee. Therefore, beginning today, we must limit our sales of coffee to our regular grocery customers. A separate list will be made up of coffee as it appears on the regular grocery orders, and as we receive our quota, the coffee will be delivered or held here to be called for, whichever the customer requests.

Why don't you try OLD GRIST MILL BEVERAGE, a substitute for coffee? It's no fly by night article. Has been on the market for over 50 years. Made from compound of whole wheat, vegetables, with coffee added for flavor. 1 lb. pkgs. 27c

THE ANDOVER

News Of Old Andover

50 YEARS AGO. Alfred Lord Tennyson was dead, and the Townsman significantly commented, "he has not profoundly moved the nineteenth century; the twentieth, therefore, may forget or ignore him." William Odlin had an article on the problems of a football coach in the Sunday Herald... George Washington Cable, another now-dimmed literary light, was to lecture in the town hall... Columbus Day had its belated celebration on the 22nd... The new boiler at the pumping station was used for the first time... Albert E. Hulme was now practicing dentistry here... The Democratic battalion looked pretty snappy in their blue coats and caps with white trimmings, and white leggings.

25 YEARS AGO. With 36 hours to go, Andover had already passed its $700,000 quota in the Second Liberty Loan... Lieut. Archie Donald, who had been aboard the Lusitania, stirred the South church men's club with his account of the sinking... The Free church C. E. was planning a Halloween party in the parish house... Harold S. Wilkins of P. A. left to become a lieutenant in ordnance... Alfred L. Ripley was elected president of the Boston Merchants Bank... Mrs. Abbie M. Smart left to winter in Cambridge... Postmaster John McDonald presented M. J. Daly, leaving for service, with a wrist watch on behalf of the postoffice employees...

10 YEARS AGO. Frank H. Hardy won a brand-new car at the Knights of Columbus carnival, and thereupon donated $100 to the carnival, the balance to the emergency committee fund... President Hoover sent a congratulatory message on the opening of the new postoffice... John H. Campion, well-known merchant and town official, passed away... Tax bills for over $1,000 were sent to 26 local persons and firms... The load shifted on a B. L. McDonald coal truck, at the Square, sending the cab up into the air... The Red Cross and emergency committee were to hold a joint drive for funds... Ballardvale's oldest resident, Thomas E. Stott, observed his 85th birthday... The voting list was augmented by 233 new names.

books of coupons tailored to fit individual needs. It is hoped that the books will be ready for distribution—at the schools—November 4 or 5, the hours being determined later.

It should be noted that the printed blank instructs the consumer to return it to the ration board directly; this is no longer in force however, because of new instructions from the Boston office, and the blank must be returned to the schools instead.

The ration board also emphasizes that all forms of fuel oil—kerosene and special cooking oils among others—must be applied for through the ration system.

Punchard Faces Lexington After Winchester Loss

Punchard high's twice-beaten football team, with blood in its eye after suffering a walloping at the hands of an unbeaten Winchester eleven last Saturday afternoon, takes on the Lexington high minutemen day after tomorrow at the Lexington field.

Winchester, in rolling up a 27 to 0 score over the Punchardites Saturday, proved itself superior in nearly all aspects of the game. It's only fair to state that Winchester hasn't been beaten in five starts, and looks as if it is heading for the Class C championship of Massachusetts.

The out-of-town team started right from the opening whistle, intercepted a Punchard pass on its own thirty, made five consecutive first downs and rolled over from the three. Captain West of Winchester was a team in himself during this drive, carrying five times for a total gain of 47 yards, and then scoring the touchdown.

During the remainder of the game, Punchard was forced to remain on the defensive, generally in its own territory. Winchester scored three more times, and would have had another touchdown if a clipping penalty had not nullified the score.

Ask Donations For Men Going Overseas

The local Red Cross chapter has been asked to make and send over 400 kit bags to the men in service. These will be distributed only to men embarking for foreign duty. Each bag and its contents will cost about $1 each, and townspeople are asked to send contributions for this work to the Red Cross rooms in the Musgrove building.

In the kit will be a piece of soap, playing cards, cigarettes or pipe tobacco, a shoe polishing cloth, pencils, envelopes and paper, chewing gum, shoe laces, a match box, razor blades, a small book and a complete sewing case.

Course In Nutrition Begins November 5

Applications are now being received for enrollment in a Red Cross course in nutrition, sponsored by the Central Parent-Teacher association, which will begin November 5 at Punchard high school. Miss Hope Coolidge, dietitian at Abbot academy, will conduct the course.

Local homemakers are invited to take the course, and to notify Mrs. Frederick Boyce or Mrs. Otis C. Severance.

now being over 27,000 pounds. The pupils at the North school also had an enormous binful, as official weighing showed a grand total of 7,920 pounds.

The scrap drive for children Saturday morning at the Andover Playhouse, with free admission to all youngsters bringing five to ten pounds of metal, realized over two tons, which were carted to the salvage dump.

Mrs. Ripley P. Bullen of 6 Stonehedge road, a member of the class of 1944, has been named on the dean's list at Radcliffe college.

Essential to our free American way of life, the All-American service of gas continues to expand and multiply. In war Industries, gas hardens metals for implements of war. Andover Artists Plan Show For War Relief

Art for war relief—why not? So reasoned a group of Andover and North Andover artists, who met yesterday afternoon at the John Esther gallery at Abbot academy to plan a Russo-Chinese relief bazaar from 8 to 10 Tuesday evening at the gallery. Proceeds from the sale of their pictures will be given by the artists to the cause.

Andover art-lovers will have the opportunity to buy, at a moderate price, water colors, black-and-whites and small oils to give as Christmas presents or to decorate their own homes. The works of nationally-known local painters may be bought for as low as $2.00, the money going to the relief of our Russian and Chinese allies. Russian and Chinese gifts will be sold, besides, and Russian music will add to the gaiety of the evening.

The exhibitors will include such well-known local people as Harry Sutton, who won a prize in Boston recently and is a member of the Guild of Boston Artists; Frances Dalton, painter of delightful children's portraits; Mary Mills Hatch, whose versatility in black and white, water color and oils have won her many laurels; Maud Morgan, currently exhibiting at the Julian Levy gallery in New York (and getting good notices from the critics); Patrick Morgan, who is an architect and landscape gardener in addition to his work as painter and teacher. Also Claire Hayes, who paints with freshness and directness; Alicia Atkinson (in private life, Mrs. G. C. Waterston) who paints and teaches in North Andover and was included in the show of New England artists during the summer at the Addison Gallery. Also Lev Goriansky, who has recently moved here from Wellesley.

J. Augustus Remington of Shaw-sheen has been drawn for jury duty in Lawrence on November 2.

DEATHS

West Parish residents were saddened to learn of the death Sunday of Miss Mabel Greenough, who passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Fred Brison of Melrose. She was born in Kemp Shore, Nova Scotia, 38 years ago, but had made her home at the Carter homestead on High plain road for the past 15 years. She was a member of Andover Grange and the R.P.C. club, and attended the West church.

Besides her sister, she leaves two brothers, Percy of Astoria, L. I., and Fred of Regina, Saskatchewan.

The funeral was held Tuesday from the Hillcrest Congregational church, Melrose, and burial was in Wyoming cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

ALBERT W. LOWE

An old-line New Englander passed from the scene last week in the death of Albert W. Lowe. His earliest American ancestor was an Englishman who piloted a ship to Ipswich in 1630. His forebears fought in the battle of Bunker Hill; a grandfather of his was captain of the garrison at Kittery, Maine in the War of 1812.

Like all good New Englanders Albert Lowe had a high sense of personal honor. His word was as good as his bond. He liked to pay his debts before the bills were presented. At his own drug store when he drew himself a coke at the fountain, he would put a nickel in the till. In all the years he drove an automobile he never was known to turn into a road marked "Private Way."

An amusing fellow with a kindly wit, he could regale his family and friends with anecdotes of the great and near-great of Andover as he had known them, for in the more than 50 years he spent behind his counter, he saw pass before him many townspeople, theologians, embryonic and matured, from the Seminary on the hill, Phillips Academy students and faculty members.

Graduated from Punchard in the days when it flourished under the famous Mr. Goldsmith, he was always sentimentally attached to the school. In his time he served on the Andover school committee. He provided his children with the best possible academic and professional training. He believed that the hope of democracy lies in the education of youth—all youth.

In the early days of the New Deal he served with the district drug division of the NRA. Before Pearl Harbor he hoped we could stay out of World War II. As a father whose son had enlisted in the Great War he felt keenly the sorrows of the present conflict.

Devoted to New England, he loved the contour of the hills, the color, the trees, the sea. Although in later years he spent many of his winters in Florida, he deplored missing the snow and frosty zest of his native winter climate. California and the West he declared were all right for a New Englander to visit, but not to live in.

An adventurous soul in his gentle way, he looked forward to the new and the untried. The glory of the world lay for him in the future. He met the Last Adventure curious to see what lies beyond.

Panel Discussion Held By P.T.A.

A very well attended meeting of all three parent-teachers associations was held last night in the music room at the Junior high school. The evening's program was a panel discussion, which treated such questions as health work in the schools, ways of securing the interest of parents in the school work of their children, report cards, air raid precautions, the school cafeteria, changes in curriculum necessary in the high and even in the grammar schools, methods of entry into the first grade, homogeneous grouping of pupils, guidance and the use of standard tests.

Supt. Edward I. Erickson acted as chairman of the discussion, and the parts of the program relating to their own work were discussed by Eugene V. Lovely, Miss Florence Gates, Miss Catherine Barrett and Milton C. Blanchard.

The very fine attendance at the meeting was quite a tribute to the membership committee, of which Mrs. Bertil A. Ryberg of Stinson road is chairman. The other members are Mrs. Herman C. Johnson, Mrs. Frederick Flather, Mrs. Wil-lard Barrett, Mrs. Windsor Gale, Mrs. Robert Hatton, Mrs. Irving Humphreys, Mrs. Frank Markey, Mrs. Sanborn Caldwell, Mrs. Frederick Gould, Mrs. Clinton Shaw, Mrs. Montville Peck, and Mrs. John Petty.

Panel Discussion Held By P.T.A.

A very well attended meeting of all three parent-teachers associations was held last night in the music room at the Junior high school. The evening's program was a panel discussion, which treated such questions as health work in the schools, ways of securing the interest of parents in the school work of their children, report cards, air raid precautions, the school cafeteria, changes in curriculum necessary in the high and even in the grammar schools, methods of entry into the first grade, homogeneous grouping of pupils, guidance and the use of standard tests.

Supt. Edward I. Erickson acted as chairman of the discussion, and the parts of the program relating to their own work were discussed by Eugene V. Lovely, Miss Florence Gates, Miss Catherine Barrett and Milton C. Blanchard.
